Get ASE Certified!

A tough credential for tough times! ASE certified professionals are more productive, more accurate and, as a result, generally earn more than their non-certified peers. You know you're good.

Why not prove it? ASE offers certification tests in May and November at more than 750 locations across the nation. For more information about ASE, call 319-337-1433 or go online, www.ase.com. ■

Correction

In the last issue of Engine Professional, the Power & Performance article entitled, "Heavy-duty Turbochargers" should have been given credit to John Todd, Senior Product Development Engineer at BD Diesel Performance. John has specialized in turbochargers for the past 45 years.

BD Diesel Performance is unique among its peers in that it designs, manufactures and distributes a wide range of products specifically engineered for performance diesel applications.

If you have any questions or comments regarding the article, please feel free to contact BD Diesel Performance at 800-887-5030. Go online: www.dieselperformance.com. ■

In memory of Robert "Bob" Lundin

LaRue Lundin was AERA's Corporate Secretary for over 20 years. Her husband, Robert "Bob" Lundin, 89, recently passed away. He was born in Hibbing, Minnesota, November 1st, 1919, to the late Einer and Edith Lundin. After high school graduation in Detroit, Michigan, he was employed by the Chicago electric company Commonwealth Edison, where he worked for more than 44 years until his retirement in 1982.

In July, Bob and LaRue would have celebrated 61 years of marriage. They both enjoyed travel in the U.S. and abroad, and are members of Christ Lutheran Church.

He is survived by his wife LaRue, daughter Joan McNamara, of Casper, WI, Carole Biederer, of Little Rock, four grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren. ■

Make plans now to attend AERA events at the PRI Show

AERA will hold two technical seminars on Friday, Dec. 11, 2009, at the PRI Show in Orlando, FL. More information about these seminars will be announced at a later date. Also on Friday evening, AERA and Engine Professional magazine will be hosting a "Network Night" reception. All engine professionals are invited to attend. The EREF auction will be held during this reception and many door prizes will be given away. For more details about the PRI show in Orlando, visit the PRI website (see page 7). ■
